Aesthet Hyaluronic FlashFiller is a scientifically advanced rejuvenating serum which helps to visibly plump out wrinkles and provide extra moisture to the skin. Hyaluronic acid in Aesthet Hyaluronic FlashFiller has a high molecular weight (1 to 1.4MnDa) and possesses exceptional water-retaining and therefore skin moisturising properties. It has been encapsulated in the Aesthet Hyaluronic FlashFiller in multilamellar Hyaluspheres enriched also with vitamin E. Vitamin E is an efficient anti-oxidant and natural moisturiser. Hyaluspheres filled with Hyaluronic acid and vitamin E ensure not only optimal skin penetration but also a long-lasting release of Hyaluronic acid into the skin to moisturise, plump the skin and fill in wrinkles.

Natural extracts from C. Asiatica and Gorgonian plant aid to sooth the skin while antioxidant-rich complex with vitamins A, C and E in nanoparticles helps to renew the skin leaving the skin feeling noticeably smoother, younger and well-hydrated.

Addition of a biomimetic hydrolyzed hyaluronic acid with molecular weight between 100 to 300kDa in the formula helps to accelerate the skins repair and improve the regeneration of the skin tissue.

Aesthet Hyaluronic FlashFiller is based on a novel hydrocolloidal three-dimensional matrix of galactomannans that releases galacto-manno-oligosaccharides into the epidermis in a sequential way, in order to regulate the final combined moisturizing effect into the skin - immediate and long-lasting.
