Aesthet Hyaluronic FlashFiller is a scientifically advanced anti-ageing serum which helps to visibly plump out wrinkles and provide extra moisture to the skin. The Hyaluronic acid in Aesthet Hyaluronic FlashFiller has a high molecular weight (1 to 1.4MnDa) and possesses exceptional water-retaining, and therefore, skin moisturising properties. In order to optimize penetration of high molecular weight hyaluronic acid into the skin, hyaluronic acid has been encapsulated in the Aesthet Hyaluronic FlashFiller in multilamellar Hyaluspheres, also enriched with vitamin E. Vitamin E is an efficient antioxidant and natural moisturiser. Hyaluspheres filled with Hyaluronic acid and vitamin E ensure not only optimal skin penetration but also long-lasting release of Hyaluronic acid into the skin, to moisturise, plump the skin and fill in wrinkles.

Natural extracts from C. Asiatica and Gorgonian plant, aid to sooth the skin while antioxidant-rich complex with vitamins A, C and E in nanoparticles, helps to renew the skin leaving the skin feeling noticeably smoother, younger and well-hydrated.

An addition of a biomimetic hydrolyzed hyaluronic acid, with molecular weight between 100 to 300kDa in the formula, helps to accelerate the skin repair and improve the regeneration of the skin tissue.

Contraindications: Hypersensitivity to any of the components of Aesthet Hyaluronic FlashFiller.
